COMMITTEE BARS EIGHT-HOUR LAW

By Vote of Six to Three It Is Decided to Refer Question to Secretary of Department of Commerce and Labor.

By a vote of 6 to 3 the House Committee on Labor decided today that there shall be no eight-hour legislation at this session of Congress. Instead of agreeing willing to have taken away from them tee on Labor decided today that there shall be no eight-hour legislation at this session of Congress. Instead of agreeing to report favorably to the House the ject to the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, with the request that he investigate the subject-matter of the bill, and that is his Hitt bill fixing eight hours as a day's port he state his conclusions with regard to the following questions:

1. What would be the additional cost to the United States of the various materials and articles which it customarily procures by contract, which would be governed by the limitations set out in

2. What damage would be done if any to the manufacturing interests affect-ed by the provisions of the bill if en-

What would be the effect of the enactment of the said bill, if any, upon the export trade of the country? Prior to the adoption of the resolution, Representative Hughes moved that the committee favorably report the eight-hour bill. This was defeated by the same vote of six to three, Mr. Maddox voting with the Republicans, for the reason that he wanted the matter referred to the Secretary of Commerce and Labor. The trouble started on the cerner of Thirty-fourth Street and Second Avenue, when a crowd of men, who were waiting for cars, were attracted by the screams of a woman from whom Joseph Kenny had snatched a purse containing $5.50.

Joseph Corn and E. Z. Johnson, jr., were the first to run to the woman's assistance. They attempted to overpower Kenny, but he managed to get away and jumped aboard the front platform of a westbound Thirty-fourth Street car. They followed and boarded the rear platform.

This Mr. Crumley has an interesting history. The late Senator Hanna paid his way through Georgetown, Hanna delivered an address at the graduation exercises of Kenyon College in Ohio, and immediately following him came Crumley. Crumley's oration immensely pleased the late statesman, and he walked up to the young man and personally congratulated him. Mr. Hanna told Crumley that he had an exceptionally bright future before him, and that he would pay his tuition through any of the big colleges.
Crumley was more than willing, and chose Georgetown. The boy was a protege of the Senator and was one of the last persons with him when he died.
